Hassan Looking Forward to New Season

“I’ve gotten adjusted and accustomed to living here in England. I really like it here and the transition from the US to UK has been very smooth for me,” said Rashad, who celebrated his birthday earlier this week, and was serenaded by a sell-out Riders crowd in the win over USA Select on Sunday.

Saturday sees the Riders open their 2013/14 BBL campaign opener against Birmingham Knights and the American can’t wait to get going.

“I really am looking forward to it, because it’ll be my first pro regular season game and that’s something I’ve been waiting for, for a long time. I’ve been preparing myself by paying attention to detail in training and always staying mental focused during the practice.

“I think we have a good group of guys that work hard and play well together. Our personalities blend well together on and off the court.”

Source: http://www.leicesterriders.co.uk/news/hassan-looking-forward-new-season/